Vision Statement:

Georgetown Housing Authority will employ imaginative solutions to provide desirable homes, communities, and opportunities for self sufficiency.

The vision statement above was adopted in July 2005 during a Commissioner retreat. It is indicative of the HA's plans for the future. Our new mission statement and goals were also adopted at the same time, and all illustrate the HA's plan to not only become a leading provider of affordable income housing in the Georgetown area, but to improve our residents' lives and communities.

The Board of Commissioners and the HA have partnered in some innovative projects since the completion of the last five year planning period. We have been integral in opening the first Boys & Girls Club in Williamson County on our public housing property. We have developed a Family Self-Sufficiency Action Plan and program that we will implement for the first time this fiscal year and will eventually be used community wide by our FSS Committee partners. We have become involved in city discussions to promote the need for more affordable housing in Georgetown, and look to partnering with various entities to provide better access to community services, develop revenue-generating activities to lessen our dependency on public funds, and to build affordable housing.

As we look to the future, the City of Georgetown and its neighbors in Williamson County are facing a population explosion, created by massive job creations and urbanization of our area. We feel that it is our duty to address the needs of the families in our area with housing they can afford, services they can access, and a sense of safety and community. To achieve this goal, the Housing Authority is researching:

- 1) Partnering with the City of Georgetown and various community organizations to develop and build the first mixed income, mixed use project in Georgetown. This project will include multi-family rental units, single family owner-occupied units, commercial units, and recreational facilities. We will look towards utilizing sustainable building techniques and energy efficiency products.
- 2) Working with the Williamson County Community Resource Center to build the first county-wide Resource Center, a one-stop shop for organizations who provide health and human services, juvenile protection, job training assistance, and other necessary community programs. We intend for this to become a valuable resource for all of Williamson County.
- 3) Building a transitional housing facility in partnership with The Caring Place, a local social service organization and Georgetown Independent School District, to provide short-term emergency housing for homeless families, individuals, and children.
- 4) Developing commercial applications to generate revenue for additional affordable housing programs. The HA is investigating market rent apartment properties to supplement our revenue stream.

The Annual and Five Year Plans outline our strategies for upgrading our current Public Housing facility, improving our Housing Choice Voucher program, and for accomplishing these new ventures.

Community Service Policy Implementation Plan:

Effective August 3, 2005, we began implementation of our community service plan. Our implementation consisted of the following:

July/ August 2005: Distribute flyers to all residents regarding community service requirement

August 2005: Reviewed all active tenant files to determine who would NOT be exempt for community service and contacted all individually to discuss Community Service requirement; also began to require all exempt residents to sign community service documentation at interims and annuals

Ongoing: At every interim and annual recertification, the manager reviews the file to insure that the resident has signed the certifications regarding Community Service. If the resident is NOT exempt for community service, the manager questions the resident to see if they have been completing their community service. She also makes a note for the Resident Services Specialist to ensure that the RSS has current information regarding residents.

The RSS monitors the community service hours monthly. The RSS contacts each resident who is responsible for completing their Community Service and verifies that they are completing hours. The RSS also maintains a list of organizations and events for which the residents can volunteer and complete their community service requirements.
